

The New Jersey "Do Not Call List" is one of the toughest, more reliable laws that there are to protect the consumers of the state. Yet you are considering striking it down in order to give the telemarketers the chance to get to us. It does not make any sense that the FCC as a government entity is willing to put the demands of telemarketers and big businesses ahead of that of the public and citizens that they are suppose to protect. Leave the "Do Not Call" list and law as it stands.
